

FROM SHORTAGES TO SUSTAINABLE SUPPLY

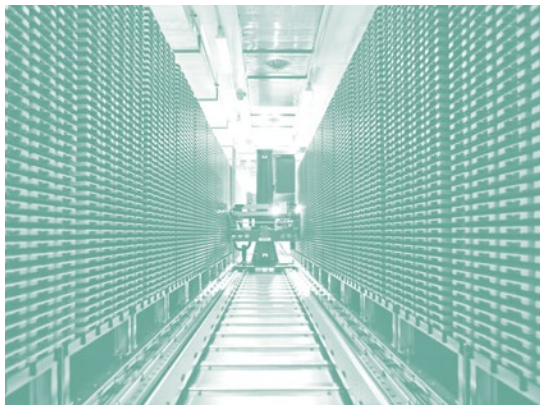

HOW DO WE SAFEGUARD IMMUNIZATION
PROGRESS AND PATIENTS' HEALTH?

SPECIAL WORLD IMMUNIZATION WEEK EVENT – SAVE THE DATE

FRIDAY, 28 APRIL 2017

MODERATOR: SUKAINA VIRJI-JEGANATHAN, MANAGING EDITOR,
EUROPE, SCRIP, AND PINK SHEET

Shortages of essential medicines and vaccines affect countries worldwide, pose risks for patient health, divert healthcare providers from direct patient care, and trigger additional costs for healthcare systems. They are global, complex, and occur at multiple points in the supply chain, from R&D to procurement and distribution. This panel discussion will explore some of the causes and contributing factors leading to in-country stock-outs, existing initiatives to pre-empt or mitigate supply disruption, and potential solutions to address this important public health issues.

10:00 – 12:00 CEST
VIEUX-BOIS
AVENUE DE LA PAIX, 12
GENEVA, SWITZERLAND

FOLLOWED BY AN APÉRO LUNCH
PLEASE RSVP TO INFO@IFPMA.ORG

The event will be moderated by Sukaina Virji-Jeganathan, Managing Editor, Europe, Scrip, and Pink Sheet.

Please RSVP to info@ifpma.org

